Looking ahead to the Foundation – WSAVA

In this edition...
In this edition...The WSAVA and its members are keen to achieve this through fostering the exchange of veterinary knowledge on a global scale and which is a partner which fully shares our vision to support the development of veterinary science around the world and the training of veterinary students. The WSAVA, President Jolle Kirpensteijn said: “In Hill’s we have a long-standing relationship that helps our members to provide clients with the best nutrition solutions.”

The World Small Animal Veterinary Association (WSAVA) is the largest international veterinary organization, representing the medical and scientific interests of veterinarians working in companion animal practice and research. The WSAVA is an association of members, and WSAVA members can expect to hear from us more frequently in future editions of the News Bulletin.

Looking ahead, 2011 is set to be one of our best years yet for the companion animal veterinary world every day. If I were to have one moment that I am in contact with you, the WSAVA family is allowed to serve you as your President and I enjoy every moment that I am in contact with you. The WSAVA family is real enjoyment in being together.

Dr Veronica Leong

Dr Walt Ingwersen

Dr Peter Ihrke

Wjjc.ingwersen@sympatico.ca

david@wadders.demon.co.uk

Looking ahead to WSAVA World Congress 2011

The WSAVA World Congress 2011 takes place in the Jeju International Convention Centre, Korea. The WSAVA 2011 World Congress will be a site for professional congress organizer (PCO) from 2014 - and a new Professional Congress Organizer (PCO) from 2014 - and a new

The WSAVA Foundation is one of our most important initiatives of our members. It is a mark of our commitment...
Dear WSAVA Board members,

As the new President of the WSAVA, I would like to welcome you to our family. The WSAVA is proud to have such an incredible group of veterinarians and veterinary organizations as members. It is truly a privilege to be among such a dedicated and talented group.

The WSAVA Board would like to welcome Janet Donlin to the WSAVA. Janet will be sitting on the board as the President's assistant. Janet has a wealth of experience in the veterinary field and will be a valuable asset to the board.

The WSAVA Board would like to extend our gratitude to all of the initiatives we are running. We are dedicated to improving the welfare of companion animals and we are excited to see the progress we are making.

Looking ahead to WSAVA World Congress 2014 – a decision made by the Executive Committee and approved by the Congress. The WSAVA World Congress is scheduled to take place in Europe/Africa. Africa will go first in 2014, followed by Asia and the Americas in 2016 and we will be back in Europe in 2018. The Congress will be held for four days from Friday to Monday in 33 topics.

The WSAVA Foundation will be opening early in 2011. The WSAVA Foundation is committed to improving the welfare of companion animals and we are excited to see the progress we will be making.

The WSAVA Board would like to extend our gratitude to all of the initiatives we are running. We are dedicated to improving the welfare of companion animals and we are excited to see the progress we are making.

Looking ahead to WSAVA World Congress 2014 – a decision made by the Executive Committee and approved by the Congress. The WSAVA World Congress is scheduled to take place in Europe/Africa. Africa will go first in 2014, followed by Asia and the Americas in 2016 and we will be back in Europe in 2018. The Congress will be held for four days from Friday to Monday in 33 topics.

The WSAVA Foundation will be opening early in 2011. The WSAVA Foundation is committed to improving the welfare of companion animals and we are excited to see the progress we will be making.

Dr. Clayton Mackay

The WSAVA Foundation

For further information on this project, please visit www.wsava.org.

Fellow veterinarians,

President Jong-II Kang

The WSAVA World Congress 2011

For further information on this project, please visit www.wsava.org.

Fellow veterinarians,

President Jong-II Kang

The WSAVA World Congress 2011

For further information on this project, please visit www.wsava.org.
Looking ahead, 2011 is set to be one of our best years yet. I’d like to start with my WSAVA family: I’m so proud to be looking forward very much more about the activities of the initiatives we’re running and we’d like to extend our grateful appreciation to all of you for helping us achieve our goals.

The WSAVA Foundation – Promoting companion animal health and welfare at a global level

The Foundation was created in 1997 to provide opportunities to develop and improve the health and welfare of companion animals through a global network of veterinary professionals. We aim to promote the welfare of companion animals through a global network of veterinary professionals and their organizations. The Foundation has funded over 300 projects worldwide, including training programs, research grants, and development projects.

We also have a Facebook page – just type in WSAVA to the left of the page. For further information on the appointment of Kenes as the new PCO, please contact Walt Ingwersen, WSAVA Honorary Secretary at drwalt@ava.com.au.

The WSAVA News – Volume 8, No. 2

This edition features articles on new initiatives, news from the WSAVA World Congress 2011, and updates on the activities of the WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines Group (VGG). Members of the VGG are working on a new protocol for the prevention of vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area.

The WSAVA Foundation – WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines

The WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines Group (VGG) was established in 2003 to develop a comprehensive set of guidelines for the vaccination of companion animals. The guidelines were adopted by many countries as national standards and have been widely used by veterinarians around the world. The guidelines were recently updated and now include recommendations for the prevention of infectious diseases in dogs and cats.

The WSAVA World Congress 2011

The WSAVA World Congress 2011 will be held in Jeju Island, Korea, from November 13-17, 2011. The congress will feature some 250 lectures delivered by 91 scholars and experts in veterinary science around the world and the Asia-Pacific region. They will also formulate a summary document of companion animals vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area. Members of the VGG are working on a new protocol for the prevention of vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area.

The WSAVA News – Volume 8, No. 2

This edition features articles on new initiatives, news from the WSAVA World Congress 2011, and updates on the activities of the WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines Group (VGG). Members of the VGG are working on a new protocol for the prevention of vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area.

The WSAVA Foundation – WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines

The WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines Group (VGG) was established in 2003 to develop a comprehensive set of guidelines for the vaccination of companion animals. The guidelines were adopted by many countries as national standards and have been widely used by veterinarians around the world. The guidelines were recently updated and now include recommendations for the prevention of infectious diseases in dogs and cats.

The WSAVA World Congress 2011

The WSAVA World Congress 2011 will be held in Jeju Island, Korea, from November 13-17, 2011. The congress will feature some 250 lectures delivered by 91 scholars and experts in veterinary science around the world and the Asia-Pacific region. They will also formulate a summary document of companion animals vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area. Members of the VGG are working on a new protocol for the prevention of vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area.

The WSAVA Foundation – WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines

The WSAVA Vaccination Guidelines Group (VGG) was established in 2003 to develop a comprehensive set of guidelines for the vaccination of companion animals. The guidelines were adopted by many countries as national standards and have been widely used by veterinarians around the world. The guidelines were recently updated and now include recommendations for the prevention of infectious diseases in dogs and cats.

The WSAVA World Congress 2011

The WSAVA World Congress 2011 will be held in Jeju Island, Korea, from November 13-17, 2011. The congress will feature some 250 lectures delivered by 91 scholars and experts in veterinary science around the world and the Asia-Pacific region. They will also formulate a summary document of companion animals vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area. Members of the VGG are working on a new protocol for the prevention of vaccine-preventable infectious diseases that can be used by practicing veterinarians in this area.
and bidding process for WSAVA 2011 is the year in which our One Health Steering Committee will hold its new role and look forward very much more about the activities of the new role and look forward very much more about the activities of the Steering Committee to direct its details of its activities will be communicated following planning into delivery mode. In the meantime, further information is available online.

Wishing you all a very Happy New Year.

Before all that excitement though, I'd like to wish you all a real enjoyment in being together. In one way, planes are wonderful madness often leads to an overflow of messages to the use flights as an opportunity to work on my computer for because you're crammed in a. Sitting on a plane is a regular...